Policy 4.8.6	Workers' Compensation Insurance (WCI)	Responsibility:	Vice President for Research

WORKERS' COMPENSATION INSURANCE (WCI)

Policy

The Health Science Center is funded through a self-insured Workers' Compensation insurance program administered by The University of Texas System in accordance with Chapter 503 of the Texas Labor Code. All costs associated with the program, including benefits to employees and administrative expenses, are paid from these funds.

Workers' Compensation Insurance (WCI) is a type of insurance specifically designed to provide medical benefits and, in some cases, financial income payments to employees on the payroll of the Health Science Center who suffer injuries or occupational illness in the course and scope of employment. WCI is not health insurance, nor does it provide compensation for damage to or loss of personal property.

Applicability

This policy applies to all employees of the Health Science Center. It excludes students who are not employed at the Health Science Center, clinical adjuncts, and non-employees such as volunteers, visitors, etc., as defined in Section 4.3.8, "Non-Employee Service", of the Handbook of Operating Procedures (HOP).

Employee Procedures In Case of Injury

1. Notify your supervisor immediately, no matter how minor the injury may seem. If necessary, report unsafe working conditions to your supervisor or the Environmental Health and Safety Office.
 2. If necessary, obtain medical attention. You have freedom of choice as to which doctor, hospital or pharmacy you may use. Inform the medical provider that your injury is work related. Your department will provide you with a Notification of an On-The-Job Injury form to give to your medical provider.
 3. If you miss work due to an on the job injury, you must keep your supervisor informed of your work status by providing a Division of Workers' Compensation Work Status Report (DWC 73) after each doctor visit. The doctor's office must provide the report to the injured employee.
 4. You must also complete the form Workers' Compensation Leave of Absence to select the type of leave you wish to use.

The form is provided by your department.

5. When your doctor releases you to return to work, you must report to work at the beginning of your next regularly scheduled shift. The DWC 73 report from your doctor indicating a return to work date or any work-related limitations must be given to your supervisor before you may return.
6. For more information, contact the Workers' Compensation Coordinator in Environmental Health and Safety at 567-2955.

Employee Procedures In Case of Disease
Exposure

1. Notify your supervisor immediately, no matter how minor the incident may seem. If you are exposed to any human or animal body fluids or other potentially infectious materials, you should seek treatment immediately.
2. You have freedom of choice as to which medical provider to use for medical care. Medical providers include off campus physicians or clinics. For your convenience, the Diagnostic Pavilion is available for the initial visit. Because timely treatment is essential, the medical provider should be called ahead of time to be advised of your condition.
3. If time permits, your department should provide you with a Notification of an On-The-Job Injury form to give to your medical provider. Inform the medical provider that your injury or exposure is work related. Follow your physician's instructions or treatment plan.
4. Provide your supervisor with a DWC 73 from your medical provider after receiving medical attention.
5. Workers' compensation insurance may cover part of the cost of the treatment of the injury or exposure. For law enforcement officers, the cost of baseline testing will be covered only if done within ten (10) days of an exposure to a reportable disease. For other state employees, the cost of baseline testing will be covered only if done within ten (10) days of an exposure to HIV. This provision applies to baseline testing and not to follow-up testing or prophylactic treatment. Contact the Workers' Compensation Coordinator at 567-2955 for more information.

Department Procedures In Case of Injury

If employee is incoherent, the supervisor or administrative staff may select an emergency facility. Send a responsible employee to accompany the injured employee.
 2. If the injury is not an emergency, complete the form, Notification of an On-The-Job Injury, for the employee to give to his/her medical provider.

This form is necessary for each period of time the employee has lost time (more than a day/shift due to the injury). Finally, the employee must be given notice that he or she will be placed under the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) from the first day of absence if the employee and injury are eligible under the law. Call the Office of Human Resources for more information about FMLA and procedures to follow.
 5. If the employee is on paid or unpaid leave of absence due to the injury/illness for more than thirty (30) working days, the employee and department must complete the Health Science Center's Exit/Clearance Form. In addition, if the employee is Lost time injuries also require Supplemental Report of Injury when there are additional days of disability, a return to work after additional days of disability, a change in the employee's time or pay, or a termination/resignation or death. Fax a copy of this form to Environmental Health and Safety, at 567-2965, and mail the original to Environmental Health and Safety.

7. Forward all doctor's bills and/or notes to Environmental Health and Safety immediately upon receipt.
8. The unsafe condition which caused the injury should be corrected. If assistance is necessary to accomplish the correction, call the Environmental Health and Safety Office at 567-2955.

Medical Benefits

Medical benefits for compensable injuries are payable from the date of injury. An injured employee is specifically entitled to reasonable and necessary health care that treats or relieves the effects naturally resulting from the compensable injury; promotes recovery; and/or, enhances the ability of the employee to retain employment.

1. The injured employee has freedom of choice regarding a medical provider from a list of doctors approved by the Division of Workers' Compensation Commission (DWC).
2. If medical treatment is required for a work-related injury, the employee should immediately choose one treating doctor to coordinate the care. Bills for the work-related injury should be sent directly to The University of Texas System WCI Office. Bills for services unrelated to a reported on-the-job injury should be sent to the employee's regular health insurer or should be paid for by the employee.

3. If medical treatment is required, it may be necessary to assure the provider the injured worker is covered by workers' compensation insurance. Please use the following statement in these instances:

"I confirm The University of Texas System is self-insured for workers' compensation. Employees of The University of Texas System who are injured in the course and scope of employment are entitled to reasonable and necessary medical treatment which will be covered and paid for in compliance with Texas Workers' Compensation Commission (TWCC) regulations. Please direct further inquiries regarding this claim to The University of Texas System WCI Office."

4. It is not appropriate to "guarantee" payment for services.
5. If the treating doctor has questions about the types of services he or she may contact the Medical Review Division of DWC by calling (512) 440-3513.
6. Except in an emergency, if the employee receives medical care for a work-related injury that is not by or at the direction of the treating doctor, payment of any charges associated with that care may become the responsibility of the employee.
7. If it becomes necessary for the employee to change treating doctors for treatment of a work-related injury, the employee must complete a DWC-53 form and get written approval from TWCC before making the change. A DWC customer service representative can assist with this process.

The University of Texas System WCI Office may, at some point while the employee's claim is pending, exercise its right to have the employee evaluated by a physician chosen by The University of Texas claims adjuster. Such an evaluation will be done to determine if the employee is disabled due to the work-related injury and/or sustained any permanent disability due to the injury. If asked to see a physician chosen by The University of Texas System WCI Office, the employee will be given notice of the appointment at least ten (10) days in advance.

Temporary Income Benefits

Temporary income benefits are payable at a percentage of the employee's average weekly pre-injury wage not to exceed the maximum prescribed by law.

Additional Information for Employees

1. Failure to report an injury within thirty (30) days of the occurrence of the injury (or the manifestation of the occupational disease) may result in the denial of a claim.
2. If an employee is injured while performing work on behalf of the Health Science Center or if the employee acquires an occupational disease as a direct result of employment, the employee may obtain appropriate medical treatment from a physician of his or her choice.
3. If the employee is claiming a work-related exposure to HIV infection, the employee must provide the employer with a written statement of the date and circumstances of the exposure; and document that within ten (10) days after the date of the exposure, the employee had a test result indicating absence of HIV infection as required under Texas Vernon's Civil Statute, Health and Safety Code 85.116c for the purpose of qualifying for workers' compensation or any other similar benefit or compensation.
4. If the employee becomes disabled due to the injury, temporary income benefits accrue from the eighth day of disability and are paid weekly.
5. For purposes of receiving temporary income benefits, an employee may elect to:
 - a. remain on the payroll by using available sick, vacation, or personal leave throughout the period of disability;
 - b. use a designated portion of available leave and then be placed on without pay status until able to return to work or

6. If the employee loses time from work due to a work-related injury, then the employee must provide the supervisor a TWCC 73 work status report from the treating doctor indicating that the employee is unable to work.
7. The employee is expected to continue communicating with the supervisor throughout any period of disability unless physically unable to do so. Experience has shown that supervisor contact every two weeks assists an employee by remaining connected with their team.
8. If the employee chooses to be absent from work without the treating doctor's order, the lost time, for purposes of calculating income benefits, will be disputed.
9. The employee is expected to return to work as soon as physically able and have obtained a release from the treating physician. If the employee is released to return to work by the doctor with restrictions, the employee is expected to work with the supervisor to comply with any restrictions the doctor has indicated on a work status report.
10. The department may have other specific rules to be followed while missing time from work. Communication with the supervisor is necessary to insure compliance with any other departmental policies.

2. misrepresent or conceal a material fact;
3. fabricate, alter, conceal, or destroy a document; or,
4. conspire to commit one of the above acts.

In addition to being an administrative violation, intentional commission of any of the above acts in an attempt to obtain workers' compensation benefits may also result in criminal charges (Class A Misdemeanor to Second Degree Felony).
